NASDAQ OMX NORDIC MEMBER RULES, VERSION 1.0– February 2010

1. GENERAL

NASDAQ OMX Nordic

An integrated marketplace for listing, trading and clearing of securities as well as information services, NASDAQ OMX Nordic is a central gateway to Nordic financial markets. NASDAQ OMX Nordic offers trading services from the following exchanges; NASDAQ OMX Copenhagen A/S, NASDAQ OMX Helsinki Oy, NASDAQ OMX Stockholm AB and NASDAQ OMX Iceland hf. (hereinafter all together or each individually NASDAQ OMX Nordic).

With its' Trading Systems, NASDAQ OMX Nordic enables efficient cross-border trading, offering cross-membership and providing one source for market data. As a central gateway to the Nordic financial markets NASDAQ OMX Nordic helps attract more interest and investment in the whole region. Listed companies receive greater exposure. Members enjoy more efficient access. All in all, liquidity increases, costs decrease and the range of opportunities expand.

The common securities market necessitates a common set of rules, which has been achieved by the NASDAQ OMX Nordic Member Rules. NASDAQ OMX Nordic provides cross membership of the exchanges for intermediaries. When applying for membership of one of the exchanges an intermediary can be given an NASDAQ OMX Nordic Membership of all exchanges. This NASDAQ OMX Nordic Membership is granted, provided that the legal requirements in each jurisdiction permit.

Trading Systems

Trading on NASDAQ OMX Nordic takes place in two systems, INET Nordic and SAXESS.

Both Trading Systems continuously broadcasts every change in the market. The information is displayed in real- time in the form of order books, market summaries, concluded trades, index information and reports of various kinds. The system offers a real-time dissemination of information to members. All traders with access to this information receive the information at the same time. The traders can thus enter their orders, without having to be in personal contact with the counterparty. At the same time, they gain an instant overview of the market situation.

The same Trading Systems can be used for trading in financial instruments admitted to NASDAQ OMX Nordic and NASDAQ OMX Baltic (which includes the following exchanges: NASDAQ OMX Riga, NASDAQ OMX Tallinn and NASDAQ OMX Vilnius). Furthermore, NASDAQ OMX Baltic exchanges have adopted separate sets of rules, with very similar contents as the NASDAQ OMX Nordic Member Rules.

INET Nordic

Equities and related trading on NASDAQ OMX Nordic takes place in the electronic trading system INET Nordic. Also certain convertible loans as well as all fixed-income instruments admitted to trading on NASDAQ OMX Iceland are traded in INET Nordic. The system is designed for meeting the needs of standard trading as well as advanced algorithmic trading and market data services for co-location customers.

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC EXCHANGES

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC MEMBER RULES, VERSION 1.0– February 2010

SAXESS

SAXESS offers fixed income functionality to support both order driven markets and price driven markets. For order driven markets, bids, and offers are entered in the relevant order book and automatically matched to trades when price, volume and other order conditions are met. Furthermore, any trade made outside the order book must also be reported in SAXESS. For price driven markets, interests are entered into the relevant order book and transactions are negotiated manually and reported into the system. SAXESS also offers functionality to support the issuing of new bonds via an electronic order book.

Market data

NASDAQ OMX Nordic also make public real-time information of orders, interests and concluded trades to other market participants and to the public via a set of Market data products which are described on the website. Market data is distributed via the GENIUM Consolidated Feed (GCF).

Membership

For access to all or some of the NASDAQ OMX Nordic markets, membership is required on each exchange. An application for membership to any of the NASDAQ OMX Nordic exchanges will be considered to be an application for NASDAQ OMX Nordic Membership unless the applicant states differently. When a member applies for an NASDAQ OMX Nordic Membership a membership is automatically granted for each of the mentioned four NASDAQ OMX Nordic exchanges provided that the legal requirements in each jurisdiction permit. Access to the market and trading is simpler, cheaper and, as a consequence, more attractive with an NASDAQ OMX Nordic Membership.

Clearing and Settlement

The membership of any NASDAQ OMX Nordic exchange requires participation directly or in-directly in clearing and settlement systems where the relevant instruments are cleared and settled. Clearing and settlement are to be viewed as separate systems from the Trading System and are thus not regulated by this rulebook.

Trades can be cleared in a Central Counterparty appointed by the NASDAQ OMX Nordic and thereafter settled in a Central Securities Depository designated by the Member and recognized by the NASDAQ OMX Nordic or cleared and settled directly in a Central Securities Depository designated by the Member and recognized by the NASDAQ OMX Nordic depending on the Instrument.

A Central Counterparty is an entity that after Novation assumes the counterparty risks related to a Trade on behalf of the members or the respective Member's clearing members as appropriate, by acting as a counterparty to the Trade. In broad terms, Novation refers to the process through which the original obligation between the seller and the buyer is discharged through the substitution of the Central Counterparty as the buyer to every seller and the seller to every buyer. However, the legal effect of the term Novation is defined by the rules laid down by the relevant Central Counterparty.

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC EXCHANGES

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC MEMBER RULES, VERSION 1.0– February 2010

NASDAQ OMX Nordic Member Rules and rule related documents

The NASDAQ OMX Nordic Member Rules give a complete rulebook on membership conditions and on trading rules.

The NASDAQ OMX Nordic Member Rules chapters 3 and 4 are general rules and apply irrespective of which market the member is trading on. Chapter 5 applies for trading in INET Nordic and is divided into several Market Segments based on the different types of instruments. Chapter 6 applies for trading in SAXESS with general rules and individual Sub-Markets. The Market Segments and the Sub-markets are related to the different trading methods applied to the instruments.

The NASDAQ OMX Nordic Member Rules are harmonised, though due to differences in the national legislation there are a few specific rules in chapters 1 to 5 that are different. The general fixed income rules are harmonised. Special rules apply to each Market segment or Sub-market due to differences in market structure on the exchanges.

Certain rule related documents that are referred to in the specific rule clauses give further guidance to the rules (for example following documents Reporting guideline, the Buy-in Procedure and Guideline). NASDAQ OMX Nordic's Market Model –document contains more detailed descriptions of the trading conditions and characteristics of the system.

Updated version

The latest updated version of the NASDAQ OMX Nordic Member Rules is at any given time available on www.nasdaqomxtrader.com/nordic.

APPENDICES

Appendix A Calculation of Equilibrium Price

During a call in SAXESS the equilibrium price is calculated as follows:

The equilibrium price is calculated to be the price where the volume that can be traded (tradable volume) is maximised. Tradable volume can only be achieved if the highest buy price is higher than or equal to the lowest sell price. If there is a maximum tradable volume for several price levels, the following selection criteria are used:

- If there is more than one price level where the tradable volume is maximised, the level where the imbalance is smallest is selected. The imbalance is defined as the surplus from the buy or sell side after distribution to trades. If there are several levels with a smallest imbalance, and if this is unequal to 0, the price where the imbalance changes sign is selected.
- Average price (with possible rounding off to the nearest valid price interval)
 - If imbalance equals 0, average between the highest and lowest price among the price levels with the smallest imbalance is selected as equilibrium price or,
 - If the imbalance is equally large on both sides of the “sign change”, the equilibrium price for the average price between the prices on each side of the sign is selected as equilibrium price.

However, the calculated average price must comply with current Tick Sizes, otherwise the price is rounded off to the nearest approved price level.

Appendix B Order Conditions

The following Order Conditions exist in the SAXESS Trading System. Order Conditions existing in the INET Nordic are explained in the NASDAQ OMX Nordics Market Model –document which may be found from NASDAQ OMX Nordic’s web pages. The use of the different Order Conditions is further specified in the different Markets or Sub-Markets.

Round Lot Orders:

- (i) "Validity" –
- Order valid only at placement. Any Order remainder will be cancelled immediately.
 - Order valid today;
 - Order valid until a specified date;
 - Order valid until a specified time;
 - Order valid during call only;
 - Order valid until the start of next call.
- (ii) "Volume" –
- Match Multiple – specifies volume multiples at which the Orders can be matched;
 - Minimum Tradable Volume – specifies the smallest volume that must be matched at one and the same time;
 - Open volume – Members may state that a certain portion of the volume of an Order shall not be shown in the Order Book. The hidden volume is accordingly unknown to other Members; however, it will be displayed in the Order Book during an open call. The open volume is updated as soon as the Order is automatically matched into a Trade. The update of the open volume will influence the priority of the Order. NASDAQ OMX Nordic will determine the maximum size of the hidden volume. This Order Condition may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Calls and Automatic Order Matching. Hidden Volume will be displayed in the Order book during an Open Call Auction..
 - Total volume.
- (iii) "Fill or Kill" – The entire Order volume must be immediately filled by one or several matching Orders, otherwise the Order is automatically cancelled. This Order Condition may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Automatic Order Matching.

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC EXCHANGES

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC MEMBER RULES, VERSION 1.0– February 2010

- (vi) "Fill and Kill" – The Order volume must be immediately filled in whole or in part and any remaining volume is automatically cancelled. This Order Condition may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Automatic Order Matching.
- (v) "All or Nothing" – The entire volume of the Order must be filled when automatically matched into a Trade. If not, the order will remain unmatched in the Order Book. For Round lots All or Nothing is only used for Accept Matching.
- (vi) "Linked order" (OR-order) – Orders may be connected so that if one or several of the Orders are automatically matched into a Trade, the volume of the other connected Order(s) are automatically proportionally reduced by the same volume that has been matched. For Linked Orders, the number of Orders included is limited to eight (8). This Order Condition may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Automatic Order Matching and may not be used in combination with other Order Conditions.
- (vii) "Standard Combination Order" (AND-order) – A Standard Combination Order consists of two underlying Order Books. A net price is entered as the price of the Standard Combination Order. This net price is what the user is altogether willing to pay for the Orders to be executed (thus a negative price indicates an expected income of the order). Both legs are executed at the same time. This Order Condition means that Spread Orders can be submitted to the system with execution guarantee. This Order Condition may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Automatic Order Matching.
- (viii) "Combination Order" – Two Orders may be connected so that the price and volume in one of the Instruments is based upon the price and volume of the other Instrument. This Order Condition means that Spread Orders can be placed in the Order Books. A net price is entered as the price of the combination order. This net price is what the user is willing to pay for the Orders to be executed (thus a negative price indicates an expected income of the order). This Order Condition may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Automatic Order Matching.
- (ix) "Odd Lot Accepted" – The Member may accept that a Round Lot Order is divided into Trades against Odd Lot Orders. This means that if Odd Lot Orders exist at the same price or subject to the "Market Price" Order condition, the Orders will be automatically matched. This Order Condition may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Automatic Order Matching and only for Order Books where there exists a Latest Paid Price.
- (x) "Average Price Matching" – Average Price Matching allows the Member to state a price for an order that will be the average price for the total order. This Order Condition may only be used if the Order in addition has Order Condition "Fill or Kill" or "Fill and Kill" and may only be used when the Order Book is subject to Automatic Order Matching and for Instruments as specified by NASDAQ OMX Nordic. The Member can specify in the order entry form that Average Price Matching is preferred.

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC EXCHANGES

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC MEMBER RULES, VERSION 1.0– February 2010

(xi) "Accept Order" – Accept Orders allow the Member to specify that a single order may be matched in the market despite of which priority the order has. Accept Orders may not be used in combination of Market Price-orders.

(xii) "Market Price" – Market Price Orders are unlimited bid or ask Orders. Market Price Orders cannot be recorded without a "Fill or Kill" or a "Fill and Kill" Order Condition. Thus as much of the Order as possible is executed immediately at the price based on opposite limit Orders and any subsequent remainder is cancelled.

(xiii) "Equilibrium Price (EP) Order" – EP Order accepts the equilibrium price reached in auction. EP order is matched only against the auction surplus and it does not affect the calculation of the equilibrium price.

Odd Lot Orders:

(i) "Validity"

- Order valid today;
- Order valid until a specified date;
- Order valid until a specified time;

(ii) "Market Price" – The Order is filled at the market price; the Latest Paid Price.

(iii) "All or Nothing" – The entire volume of the Order must be filled when automatically matched into a Trade. If not, the Order will remain unmatched in the Order Book. The Order Condition may not be limited to be valid during calls only.

Appendix C Trading methods

The following trading methods exist for trading in SAXESS. Trading methods existing in the INET Nordic are explained in the NASDAQ OMX Nordics Market Model –document which may be found from NASDAQ OMX Nordics web pages. The use thereof is further described in the relevant Market or Sub-Market:

1. Trading Hours

Automatic Order Matching

Buy and Sell Orders are automatically matched when the price and volume for a given Order match with price and volume for other Orders previously entered in the Order Book. Orders are automatically matched according to priority.

The Trade price for an Automatically Matched Trade is determined by the Order that already existed in the Order Book. On the NASDAQ OMX Helsinki, Odd Lot Orders for Fixed Income Instruments do not match with Round Lot Orders. The trading rules for the various Sub-Markets in the Fixed Income Market specify whether Odd Lot Orders may only be automatically matched at the Latest Paid Price or according to the price of the corresponding Order.

The following matching rules apply:

-The traded volume for an Order must adhere to the following rule:

Traded volume = $n \times \text{Match Multiple}$

$n = 0,1,2,3 \dots$

If the size of an Order goes below one Round Lot (on the Fixed Income Market), then it is changed to an Odd Lot. It is automatically assigned the Order Condition "All or Nothing" if its' original Match Multiple was one Round Lot

Priority of Orders during Automatic Order Matching:

Orders are automatically matched in accordance with the following:

- Order Class, in which Round Lot Orders have priority over Odd Lot Orders (on the Fixed Income Market);
- Price, and in the event of Orders with the same price;
- Time at which the Order is placed in the Order Book.

When determining the priority of Orders, Internal Crossings are given priority before time, unless otherwise specified in the trading rules for the relevant Sub-Market. Odd Lot Orders are matched randomly at the Latest Paid Price.

The priority in the Order Book of a suspended Order that is reactivated will be equal to a new Order. Orders which have the status "Suspend and save overnight" will, when they are activated automatically by the Trading System, randomly be assigned a new time priority

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC EXCHANGES

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC MEMBER RULES, VERSION 1.0– February 2010

The priority of an Order is not modified where the Member reduces the Order volume. Other changes of the Order result in a cancellation of the existing Order and the placement of a new Order. However, exemptions apply when using the Order Condition "Open Volume":

- If the Member increases the open volume, the original open volume will maintain its priority;
- If the member reduces the open volume, the change will take effect immediately and the open volume maintain its priority;
- If an Internal Crossing is automatically matched and one of the Orders include Hidden Volume, the Trade will be automatically matched with use of total or parts of the Hidden Volume, thus any open volume will maintain its priority.

Accept Matching

For Accept Matching, the priority of an Order may be surpassed and Order matching can take place against any Order in the Order Book without considering any priority rules.

2. Call Auctions

The following steps are included in a Call Auction:

When Order placement at the end of the pre-call state is closed, an equilibrium price is calculated. This is the price at which the largest nominal value of Instruments can be matched. Trades are only executed at one, single price.

Orders that have a price better than the equilibrium price are filled. Orders that have a price equal to the equilibrium price are filled in accordance with the matching principles for hidden and open calls, see below. It is only the Orders' Round Lot part that participates in the calculation of the equilibrium price. Odd lot orders can be matched at the equilibrium price according to the ordinary matching rules;

The Orders that are not matched in the call and that have validity beyond the call, are distributed to the Order Book.

A1 Open Call Auction

During an Open Call, Orders are matched in accordance with the following:

Price. Orders with prices equal to or better than the calculated equilibrium price, are filled. In the event of Orders with the same price, then Time. Calculation of time priority shall take place commencing with the time at which the Order is electronically registered in SAXESS. However, the Orders placed in the Order Book in a period with no transparency, are randomised when the Order Book enters into a period with transparency, whereby a new time priority may be assigned.

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC EXCHANGES

NASDAQ OMX NORDIC MEMBER RULES, VERSION 1.0– February 2010

When determining the priority of Orders, Internal Crossings are given priority before time, unless otherwise specified in the trading rules for the relevant Sub-Market.

During the Call Interaction State, the Members have access to information in the Order Book.

Orders on the equilibrium price are filled according to FIFO.

A2 Hidden Call Auction

During a Hidden Call, Orders are matched in accordance with the following:

Price. Orders with prices equal to or better than the calculated equilibrium price are filled.

During the Pre-Call state, the Members have no access to information in the Order Book.

Orders on the equilibrium price are filled proportionally up to Round Lots to their volume.

B1 American Auction

An American Auction is an auction where matching takes place at different prices based on the Orders entered into the system by the Members.

B2 Dutch Auction

A Dutch Auction is an auction where matching takes place at one single price to be determined by the lowest accepted Bid or the highest accepted Ask based on Orders entered into the system by the Members.

Hidden Calls may be combined with an American Auction or a Dutch Auction.

3. Issuing auction

For Issues or Buy Back Offers a Member may issue an auction. The auction is either a hidden auction or an open auction. The Member in accordance with the trading rules in the relevant Sub-Market specifies the conditions for an issuing auction.
